

Aerotaxi NET® Expands Your Aviation Resources.

Travel Department tasks are highly complex today.

To successfully manage flights requests of all your passengers is a major task. Given the ever-increasing emphasis on corporate efficiency, you need a resource you can rely on to help you juggle all these demands. And while commercial carriers can certainly handle your normal travel requirements, there are bound to be times when you need supplemental lift to make sure your executives meet all their commitments with no worries.

No matter what your specific needs, you can always call on Aerotaxi NET® to fulfil your flights demand.

Think of it as a tool that ensures you deliver 100% service, 100% of the time.

Supplementing Current Operations.

Whether commercial carriers don't serve all airports or down for strike or already booked, your demand for aircraft doesn't stop. A call to Aerotaxi NET® provides you with the resources you need, anywhere in the world. It also means that your flights are conducted safely with quality service and guaranteed availability.

Increasing Capacity to Meet Demand.

For those times when you need to address a temporary spike in demand, Aerotaxi NET® can provide additional lift wherever you need it.

Secure Flights.

By flying Aerotaxi NET® when appropriate, your executives and their destination will always remain completely anonymous, keeping competitors and others from knowing about your business dealings such as merger and acquisition discussions.
